Results from the 2016
BNP Paribas Individual Philanthropy Index

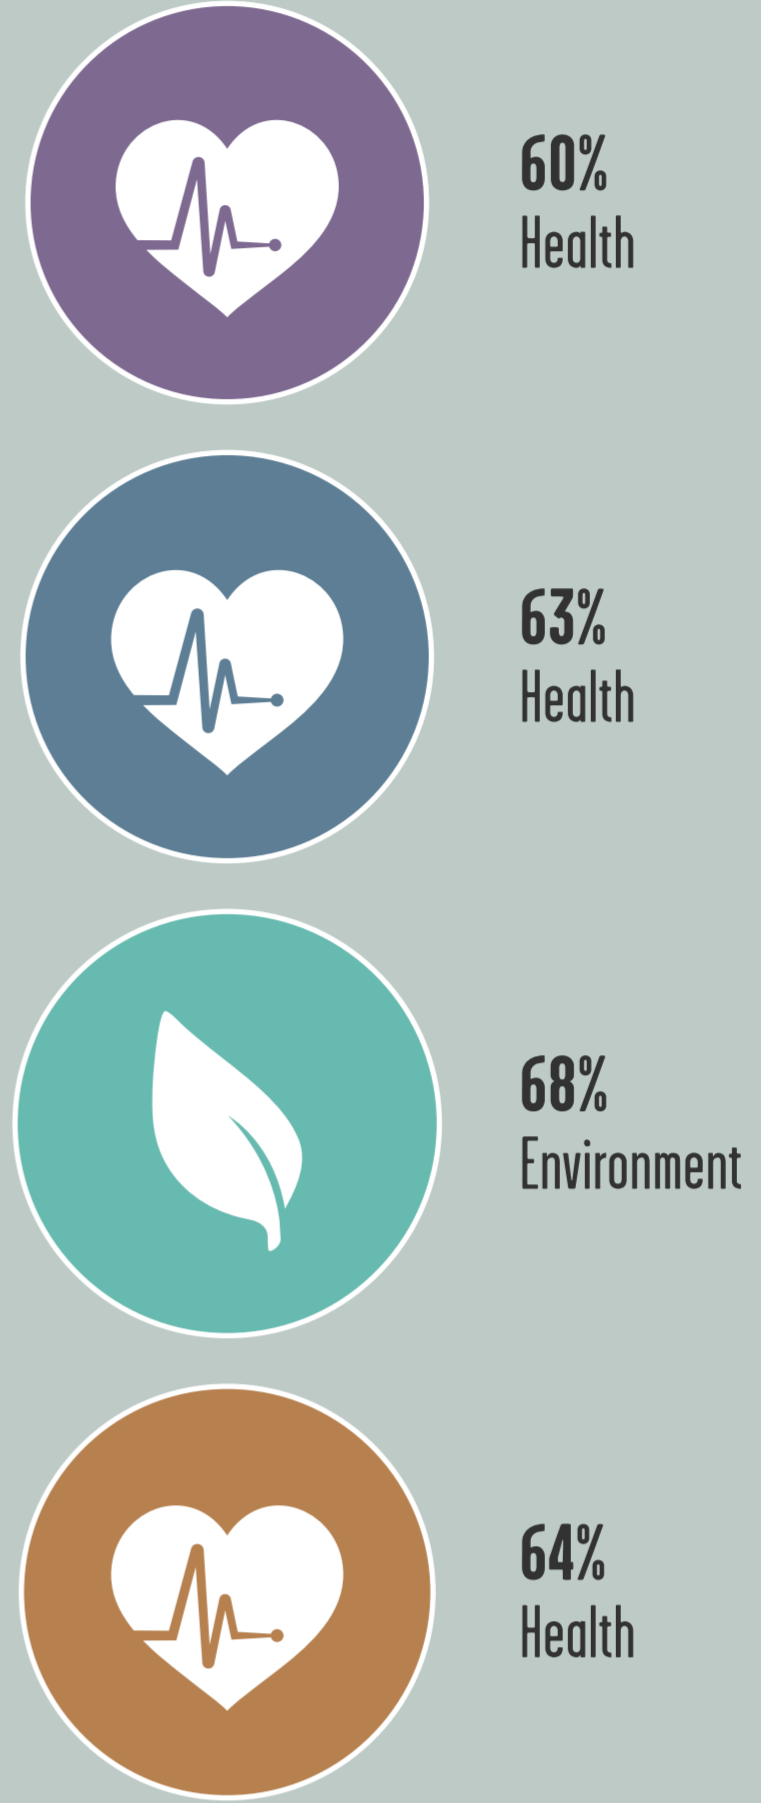

Bank of the West Wealth Management, in partnership with parent company BNP Paribas, teamed with Forbes Insights to publish this annual index to look at philanthropic activity and trends among donors in four regions — Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and the United States. Here are some notable findings:

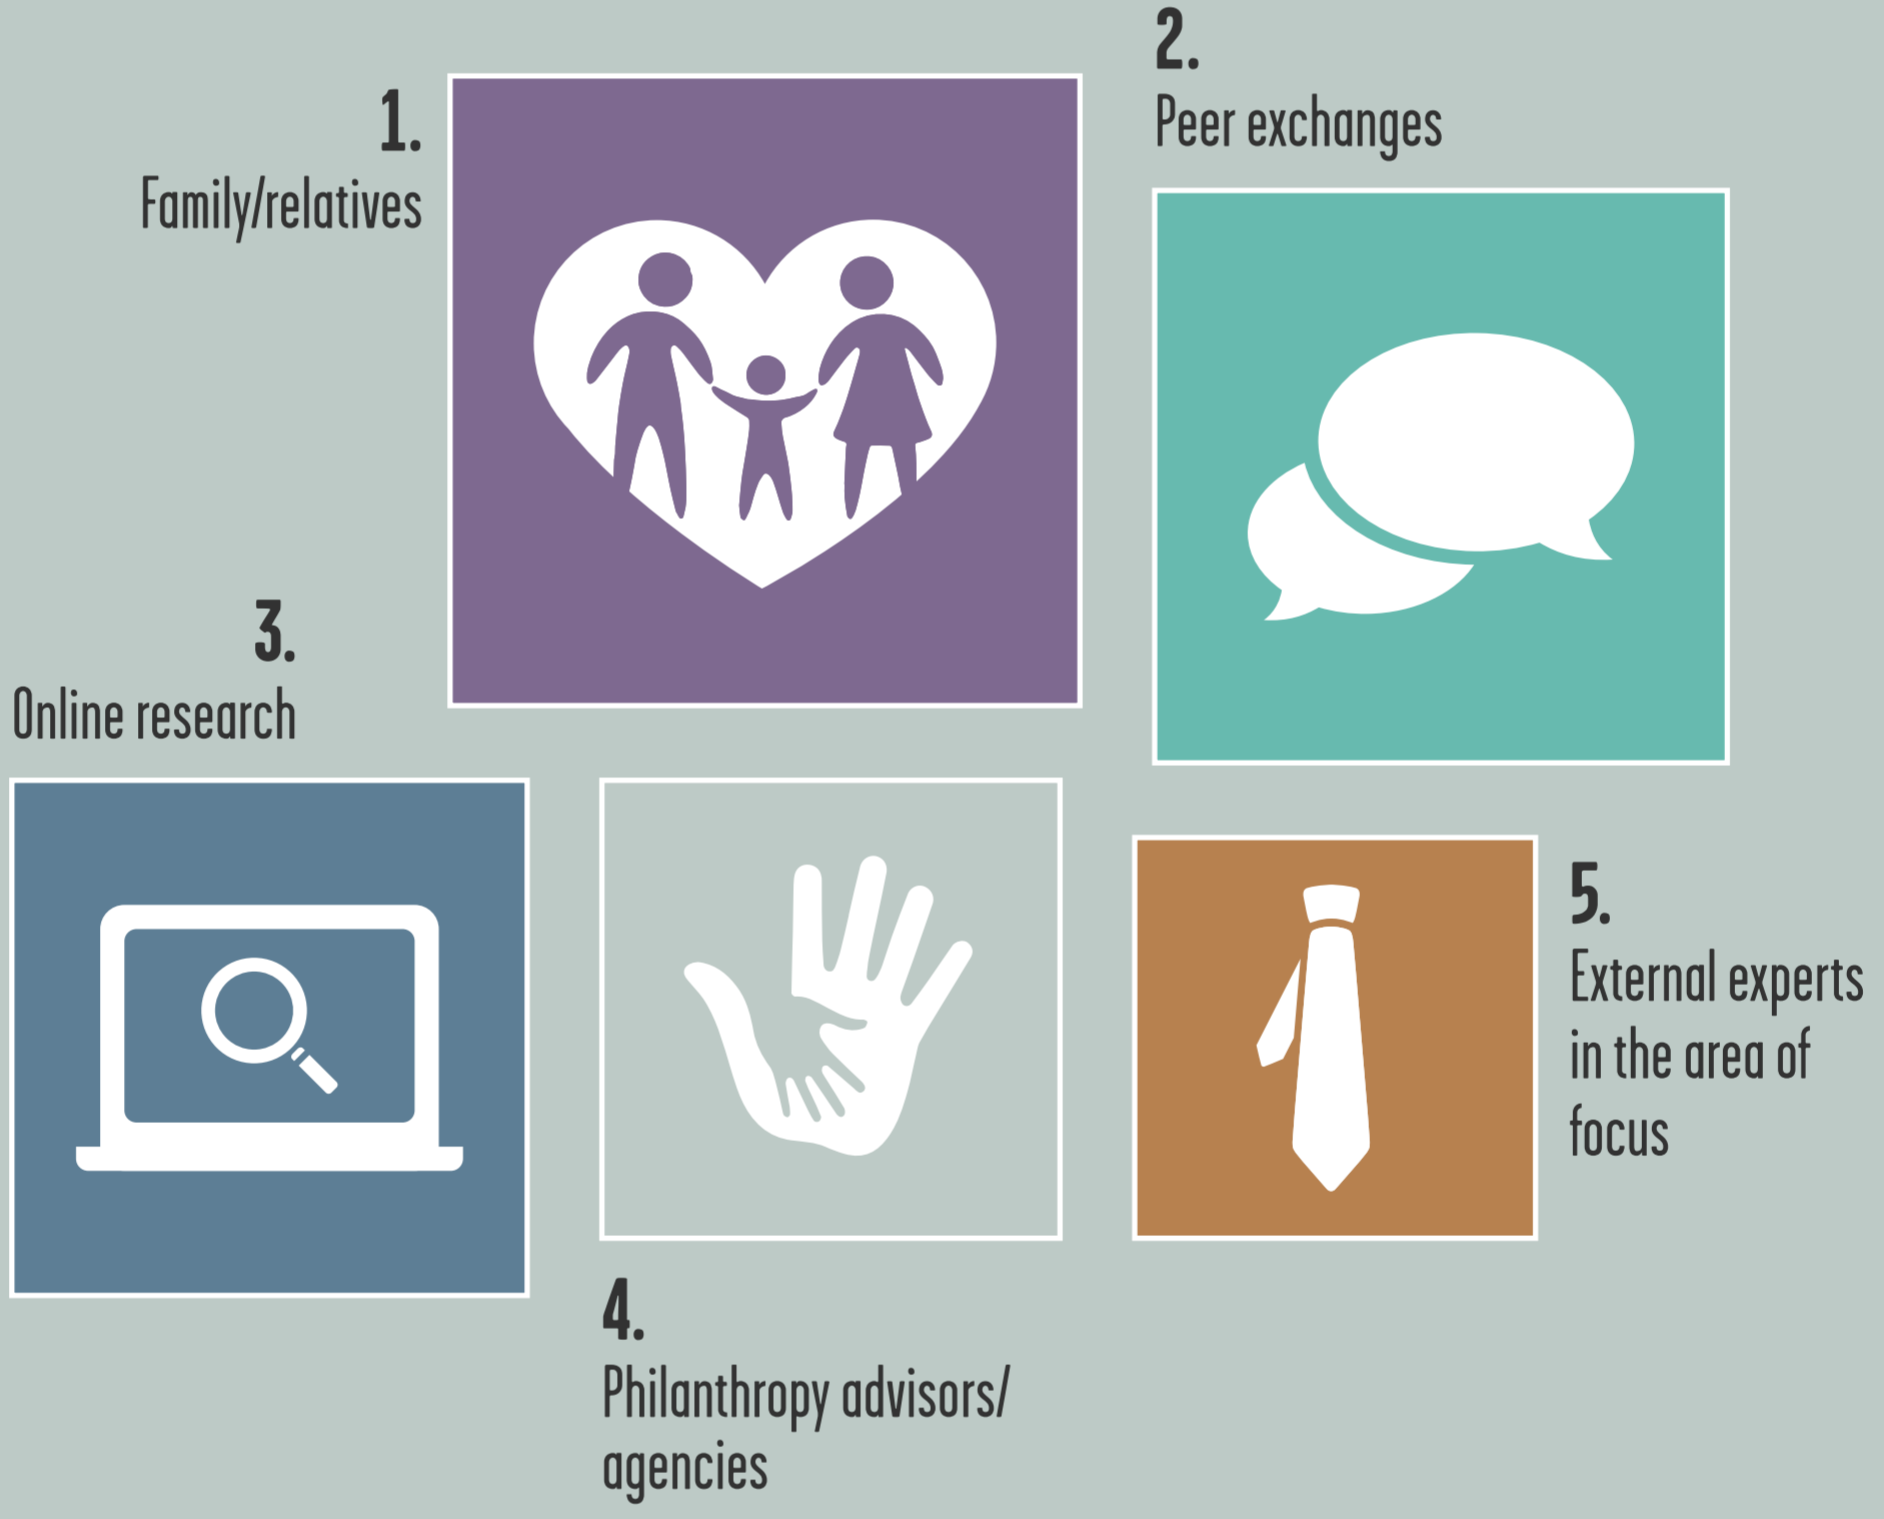

What motivates donors most?

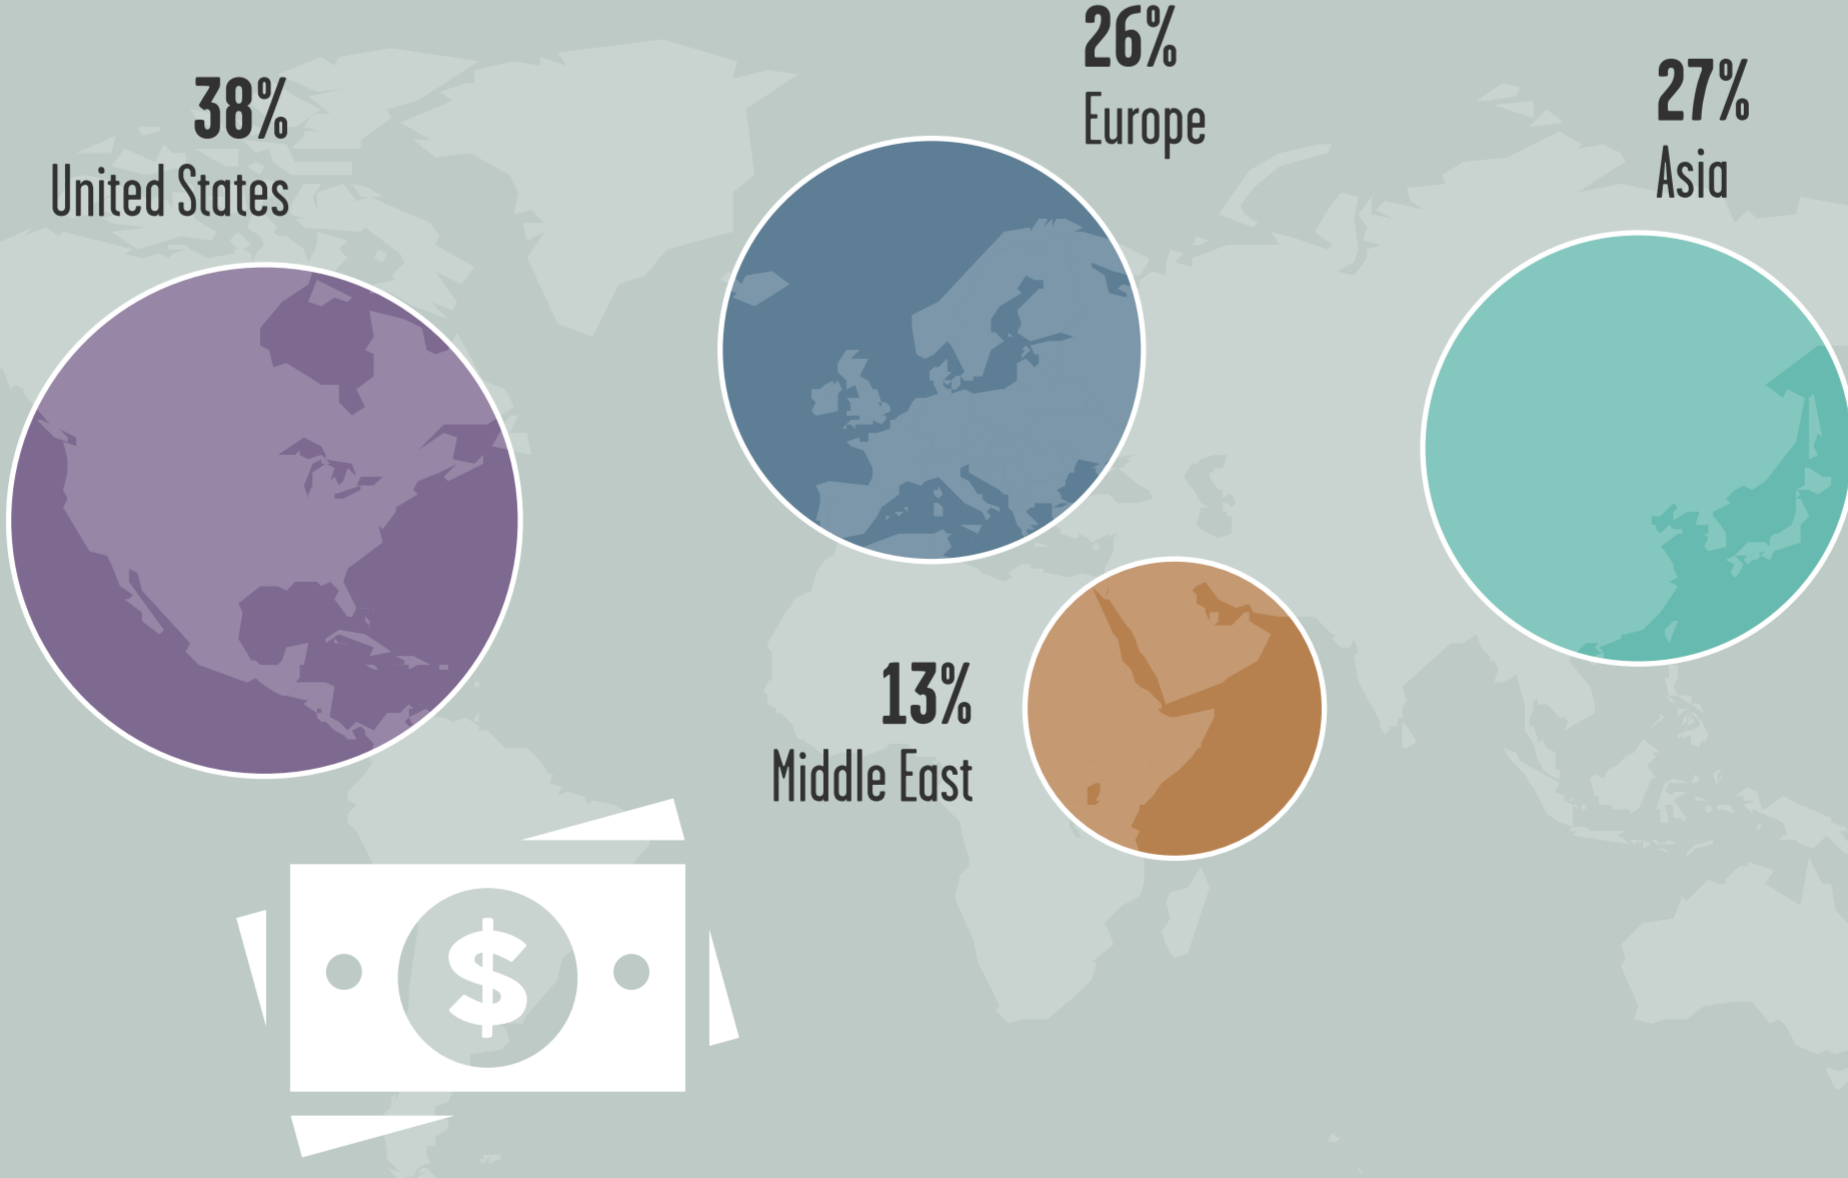

What is the top philanthropic cause?

Which resources are most influential in philanthropists' giving decisions?

How many philanthropists plan to leave at least a third of their fortunes to charity?

NOTE: Survey respondents were able to choose/rank multiple answers to the above questions.
